Message from the Chair

I am pleased to present the Regional Capitals Australia (RCA) 2023 Annual Statement that outlines the work of our alliance to deliver a stronger future for regional capitals across Australia.

Regional Australia continues to thrive in the post-Covid era with city to regional migration rates still up by over 16 per cent on average, compared to 2018/19.¹

However, shortages of suitable housing, connectivity infrastructure and skilled and non-skilled labour continue to be a roadblock to growing regional economies and RCA is championing the case for appropriate support so the population boom is backed up by the right investment for sustainable growth.

This year, the RCA Board have taken our advocacy efforts to the nation's capital on a number of occasions as the Albanese Government shapes a broad range of policy and programs for future years.

In particular, we have worked hard to ensure that regional grant programs are fit for purpose and I'm pleased to see so many of our recommendations to government reflected in the final program guidelines.

We have also worked hard to highlight the critical role played by regional airports and press the case for funding of these important national assets as well as making sure that regions get their fair share of support to address the housing crisis.

In closing, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all of our member councils for their continued support, advocacy and commitment to the common goals and growth of regional capitals.

It has been a privilege to serve regional Australia during my tenure as Chair, and I look forward to supporting RCA to ensure a viable and secure future for the next generation.

Chair
Cr Kylie King

“Regional Australia continues to thrive in the post-Covid era with city to regional migration rates still up by over 16 per cent on average, compared to 2018/19.”

Key Activities and Achievements

This year saw a particularly busy advocacy program as the Albanese Government undertook consultation on regional grant program guidelines and aviation.

In addition, shortage of suitable housing, labour and challenges in delivering infrastructure in an inflated market continued to be a challenge and RCA pressed the case for additional investment in these key areas.

The following areas were a key focus of RCA's advocacy:

Regional Initiatives

- Regional Grant Programs: The Federal Government has opened applications for two new regional funding programs totalling $1 billion - the Growing Regions Program and the Regional Precincts and Partnerships Program;
- Regional Investment Framework: New investment framework that establishes a regional development forum for Australian Government agencies to better inform government decisions.
- Roads: The extension of the Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Program (totalling $500m for Phase 4);
- Regional Arts: The Federal Government's new arts and cultural policy provides $8.5 million in increased support for regional arts and culture, through a boost to the Regional Arts Fund and continuation of the Festivals Australia Program;
- Regional Housing: $10 billion Housing Australia Future Fund including a new housing enabling fund for local government to support the development of new housing across Australia. A regional stream will be included in this fund;
- Migration: Allocating around 70 per cent of the places in the 2023-24 permanent migration program to skilled migrants and providing an extra two years of post-study work rights to Temporary Graduate visa holders with select degrees.

Regional Funding Programs

RCA has advocated strongly that growing regional capitals need a reliable funding stream for investments in important community infrastructure, with program guidelines that are fit for purpose, efficient and not overly onerous on applicants.

We were pleased to see many of our recommendations accepted by the Government, across both of the new programs: Growing Regions Fund and the Regional Precincts and Partnerships Program.

RCA Recommendation	Growing Regions Fund	Regional Precincts and Partnerships Program
Funds to be exclusively allocated to regional communities: excluding suburban and metro projects	Yes – capital cities excluded	Yes – capital cities excluded
Review the stated intention to allow State Governments to access federal regional grant programs	State Governments ineligible for funding	State Governments can apply provided they demonstrate a partnership with local government
That the Government commit to annual rounds of funding	Three rounds committed	Rolling fund – no open or close date
Implement a two-step application process to ensure resources aren’t wasted filling in grant applications with little chance of success	Yes – EOI and then full application	No
Guidelines should support the development of a broad range of enabling infrastructure	Yes	Yes, with the exception of housing and emergency management
Funding caps should set Federal contribution at between $10 and $50 million and reflect an accurate population planning statistic	Yes – $500,000 – $15 million	Yes – $5 million – $50 million
Council resources should be used to carry out infrastructure delivery as an in-kind contribution	No	Yes – contributions can be cash or in-kind
Support for business case development	No	Stream 1 provides funding for business case development

Regional Airports

RCA led a delegation to Canberra to advocate for additional support for regional airports in the lead-up to the release of the Government's Aviation Green Paper.

Regional airports are hard-working national assets with a big role to play in the life of regional Australia, and our nation's broader economy and security.

An estimated 200 regional airports are owned and operated by local councils but rising operating, regulation and security costs means that many airports are operating at a loss and a burden on regional ratepayers.

To overcome these financial constraints and to support future growth, RCA is advocating for:

- Implement a policy recognising the importance of regional airports in increasing the connectivity of regional Australia and to consider future planning and funding of regional airports;
- Provide recurrent funding for the Regional Airport Fund to ensure that regional airports can be upgraded and maintained and that federally mandated security arrangements can be catered for in future years;
- Upgrade the guidelines for the Regional Airport Fund to allow for landside developments to be considered; and
- Review the efficacy of Western Australia's Strategic Airport Asset and Financial Management Framework (as recommended by the Productivity Commission) to assess the efficacy of the Framework and determine its suitability for application across all jurisdictions.

RCA was pleased to see the challenges facing regional airports acknowledged in the Aviation Green Paper and will be making a further submission for consideration in the forthcoming Aviation White Paper.

Renewable Energy

Australia's rapid escalation into renewable energy means that regional communities are now facing unfamiliar territory on the frontline of Australia's renewable energy transition.

RCA developed the Renewables Installation Consultation Paper and has advocated for greater regulatory oversight to ensure communities aren't adversely impacted by renewable energy installations.

RCA has called on the Federal Government to introduce new safeguards to ensure regional communities are appropriately consulted and protected, with a nationally consistent framework that delivers baseline standards for investment and consultation.

RCA is seeking a commitment from the Federal Government to ensure that two key commitments are met as renewable energy projects are rolled out across regional Australia:

- Ensure that robust community consultation and best practice engagement is established as a minimum standard and as a regulatory requirement. This should function as a requirement to any proponents seeking to build renewable projects and transmission lines; and
- Guarantee a seat at the table for regional stakeholders. It is of paramount importance that affected stakeholders are given a seat at the decision-making table to ensure social licence is obtained, and that benefits and costs are properly considered.

Housing

RCA has long advocated that a shortage of appropriate, affordable and available housing options has curtailed growth in regional cities. RCA has welcomed the work underway through the Commonwealth Government's National Housing and Homelessness Plan, the Housing Australia $10 billion Future Fund and the National Accord.

RCA believes that investment is required in the following crucial areas:

- Enabling infrastructure: roads, water and land;
- Managing growth: support for regional planners;
- Maintain and improve existing housing stock; and
- Housing innovation program to recognise and support innovative local projects that can bring housing to market in a timely manner.

RCA was invited to participate in the Regional and Remote Housing Stakeholder Forum, as part of the development of the National Housing and Homelessness Plan.

Who we are

Regional Capitals Australia (RCA) was formed in 2012 to represent the interests of Australia's regional capital cities.

Our objective is to ensure these needs are reflected in national policy and funding priorities. Regional capital cities perform a 'capital city' role within their regions, providing a central point of access to essential services, commerce, employment and education. These services are accessed by local residents as well as those in surrounding towns and rural areas.

Regional capital cities also provide a liveable alternative for people and businesses wishing to escape Australia's congested metropolitan cities. Every year regional capital cities generate $225 billion, or more than 16 per cent of national economic activity. All RCA members have a growth agenda and stand ready to ensure a growing Australia means a stronger and more equitable regional Australia.

Through the executive and representatives of each member council, RCA advocates to the Federal Government and agencies on issues that are specific to the regions.

The governance team is made up of a national forum of Mayors and CEOs and is governed by a board of nine councils and led by the Chair and Deputy Chair.
